Licensing Program for Christian Counselors

The policies, fees and requirements outlined in this catalog supersede all previous publications effective June 1, 2010. NLU materials are proprietary and protected by copyright. Some courses are copyrighted by the National Christian Counselors Association and are offered by permission.

The NLU program offers credentialing for pastoral counselors through the National Christian Counselors Association. The NCCA certification/licensing program is not to be identified nor confused with state licensing in any way. It is intended for a person who wants to practice as a servant of the Body of Christ. The authority to counsel while recognized by the State is granted by the Church. In addition to the training offered by NLU, the NCCA requires a ministerial credential to complete the program.

NLU is an educational and training organization for Christian counselors. New Life includes ministers, professional Christian counselors, testing specialists, medical doctors, attorneys and educators. The staff of NLU has committed themselves to the Lord Jesus Christ and believes that counseling is vain, unless it is founded upon, and directed by, the Word of God.

NLU is a totally different organization from Branches Recovery Center. While we share personnel and a common core value, NLU has a separate board of directors, a separate operating charter, and is careful not to be confused with Branches Recovery Center.

The main purpose of NLU is to provide quality training for pastors and Christians who feel God's call to counsel. Our training results in credentials that the community (Christian and non-Christian) will recognize but the authority and call to Christian service has always been in the Holy Spirit of God.

Our Mission

The mission of New Life University is to provide quality training that brings together the best of Biblical counseling and secular education. We believe that counseling is the new evangelism, that hurting, broken people are a harvest field in need of the healing power of God and His church. By training godly counselors NLU is not only living out its own mission but fulfilling the Great Commission. NLU training benefits anyone who desires to help others, make a difference in their world, and live out the call of Christ to reach the lost, heal the brokenhearted, and care for the hurting in our world.

Frequently Asked Questions

Who Can Benefit From NLU Training?

The training adjusts to meet the needs of Christians with different goals, including:

- Christians who want to be better equipped to minister to those who need counsel
- Pastors who want to learn how to counsel members of their community who are experiencing problems.
- Christians who want to be credentialed and enter the field of counseling as a part-time or full-time ministry.
- Professional counselors who want to become A.P.S. certified and learn a Biblically-based counseling model with proven success.

How NLU Credentials Help You Personally and Professionally?

Potential counselors often ask about the benefits of the training and obtaining certification or license from NLU. Of course, the main benefit is knowledge. The training you receive provides a deep spiritual insight into understanding human behavior and relating to others. This knowledge is valuable in every area of life, including your ability to help those who are hurting.

In addition, the certification or license can open many doors. For example, once you successfully complete the program, you may elect to apply for ministerial credentials through the National Conservative Christian Church and qualify to open your own counseling ministry in your community under the authority of this national church organization.

Having NLU and NCCA credentials ensures that you are recognized within your community as a qualified Christian/Pastoral counselor. The community can be assured that your credentials are authentic and current.

Other benefits available to NLU members include qualifying for professional liability insurance, networking with other counselors and the opportunity to earn continuing education credits at seminars and conferences. In addition, NLU offers assistance to its graduates with regard to degree transfer work and fulfillment of academic goals.

The faculty and staff of New Life University reserve the right to withhold licensure from students regardless of their academic achievements if we believe, with cause, that such students may lack the emotional or spiritual maturity necessary to qualify them to counsel other people safely and effectively. Such an action is very rare and would be open to discussion and appeal with the student in question.

Certification, Licensing, and Degree Completion through NLU

The ministry and mission of NLU is to educate and prepare men and women who have been called to a ministry of counseling, formal or informal, in an integration of clinical counseling techniques, biblical principles of counseling, and the power and necessity of prayer and worship in the healing process. It is our belief and our desire that the Body of Christ is called to help one another in finding healing and wholeness in all areas of the human condition, body, soul, and spirit. James 5:16 say, "Confess your faults to one another, and pray for each other, so that you might be healed." Clearly we really do need each other to be made whole.

In view of that, we serve as a catalyst for the student counselor to prepare themselves to serve the Body of Christ with excellence and confidence. It is certainly acceptable to enroll in a course or courses through NLU to further your understanding of an area or to aid in your own growth. Our purpose however is to help prospective counselors reach a level of training and experience that qualifies them to serve the church and one another as fully as they desire.

CERTIFICATION

Upon satisfactory completion of the required coursework, supervised experience hours, and case studies the NLU student will be certified as a graduate of the Training for Christian Counseling. This certification is supported by the NCCA, the National Christian Counselors Association.

LICENSURE

The authority to practice counseling as a pastoral counselor is not given by NLU or the NCCA. That authority is given by the church. Therefore, an additional requirement to be certified as a Licensed Pastoral Counselor is the recognition, or commissioning, to ministry by the church. Completion of the NLU training should qualify you to be commissioned by your local church, or, should you choose, the National Conservative Christian Church, a well respected licensing organization that has a partnership with NLU and the NCCA. We will assist you in this step as a part of your NLU course completion. Licensure will be as a Certified Pastoral Counselor or a Licensed Pastoral Counselor depending on the highest degree held by the student.

DEGREE

It is possible to earn an academic degree through your work with NLU and membership in the NCCA. Earning a Bachelor's Degree or Master's Degree will require completion of the NLU coursework, some additional coursework depending on your educational background and the degree sought, and a matriculation fee. The degree program is available through a number of partner institutions. Students interested in a degree completion program should speak to a NLU admissions counselor to work out the exact requirements and program needed.

Christian Certification and Licensing

NCCA certification is not a state license and is, in fact, distinctly different. Most states have regulatory laws governing the practice of psychology. Many of them may also legislate the practice of general counseling. The laws vary from state to state. For example, some states have a counselor category called “Licensed Professional Counselor.” Therefore, NLU requires its counselors to clearly identify their license, e.g. “NCCA Licensed Pastoral Counselor” or “NCCA Licensed Clinical Christian Counselor.” This ensures that the NLU counselor is operating within legal and ethical standards, and maintaining the public’s trust and confidence.

State regulatory laws help to protect the public and ensure professionalism within the counseling profession. The NCCA and NLU strive to attain a similar goal within the Christian community and, at the same time, operate so as to avoid infringing upon state regulations.

The state and federal governments also have jurisdictional boundaries. They do not pass laws that prevent the Church from fulfilling its purpose of ministering to humanity’s needs. The state recognizes that counseling is one of the responsibilities of the Church and its clergy. For this reason, the state does not interfere with the Ministry of Counseling.

NLU requires all who are certified by the NCCA Licensing Board of Examiners to:

1. Be credentialed ministers (ordained, licensed or commissioned) whose goal is to evangelize and ease the emotional pain and suffering of humanity.
2. Provide their service under the authority of a legally organized local church, a national church organization, or a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit ministry.
3. Complete specialized training provided by NLU.
4. Complete the minimum requirements for continuing education and annual license renewal.
5. Uphold NCCA’s Code of Ethical Standards and maintain annual membership in the NCCA.

The National Christian Counselors Association’s published Code of Ethical Standards outlines all of the procedures involved in dismissal, revocation, probation and reinstatement of an individual’s membership, certification and/or license.

Accreditation

The NCCA is fully accredited by the Accrediting Commission International as a comprehensive Accredited Member. For information regarding the standing of the NCCA please go to www.accreditnow.com.

The NCCA is also fully accredited by the National Private School Accreditation Alliance. For information see www.npsag.com.

Notice of Non-Discrimination Policy

NLU admits students of any gender, race, color, national or ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to students. It does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, color, national or ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, and/or admission policies.

Further, NLU does not discriminate in admission or employment practices with respect to those with impaired vision, hearing, physical mobility or age.

NLU is established in the state of Tennessee and is licensed for business under the name New Life Coaching.

The Arno Profile System

As a licensure candidate, you will learn the Arno Profile System (A.P.S.) for counseling. A.P.S. is an easy-to-learn counseling technique used by thousands of lay counselors, professional counselors and pastors throughout the United States and in several foreign countries.

The Christian counselor administers a questionnaire, which takes fewer than ten minutes for the counselee to complete. The questionnaire measures the counselee's needs, natural traits, strengths, and weaknesses according to temperament. These are identified in the computerized Arno Profile System report, providing the counselor with in-depth information and the best way to counsel the individual. The system enables a qualified counselor to identify the counselee's temperament problem faster and more accurately.
